FAVORITE SONS COMBINE TO DEFEAT U. S. JUSTICE

ALLIES LOOK TO SAGAMORE HILL FOR REINFORCEMENT NEEDED

Seem to Think Word from Roosevelt Would End Chance of a Nomination of Hughes—Root Figures Prominently in Plans—Hughes Leads on Both Ballots in Republican Convention—Gains Strength on Second.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, June 10.—The peace conference of the Republican and Progressive conventions adjourned shortly before two o'clock this (Saturday) morning until 9 o'clock without having come to a definite agreement.

The committee representing the Progressives presented the subject of a compromise candidate before the representatives of the Republican convention to indicate fully any objection they had to Colonel Roosevelt or to name a substitute and suggest reasons why this alternate candidate would be more available. The conferees on behalf of the Republicans replied that there were two difficulties facing them; first, they had no authority to speak for their convention and second there were ten candidates appealing for Republican support and it was not within their province to name any one of the ten as even the probable choice of those who had clothed them with the commission to meet.

There was a long and friendly conversation and it ended as it began. The opinion of those participating was divided.

Senator Borah was optimistic and thought that an agreement could ultimately be reached. Others were far less confident and thought it likely that the Progressives would continue their work and nominate today. In that event it was not believed to be unlikely that the Republicans might also nominate and the opportunity for united effort would in that event have passed.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The last stand of the allies against the Hughes forces which threaten to sweep the Republican convention today has been ordered. With more than a majority of the delegates still pledged to their colors, steps were taken at midnight to guard against desertions. Optimistic statements were circulated based on the ability of the combination of favorite sons to adjourn yesterday's session before proceeding with a third ballot which, if taken, almost certainly would have made Justice Hughes the nominee.

Look to Sagamore Hill.

The plans of the combination were guarded with the utmost secrecy, but it was necessary for the leaders to take so many persons into their confidence that it became known that the allies looked to Sagamore Hill for the reinforcement needed to make victory theirs. A word from Colonel Roosevelt they all seemed to think would end the chance of a nomination of Hughes and his approval of an ally would give that candidate strength with at least a show to get the nomination.

The leaders in the combinations were managers of the candidacies of Fairbanks of Indiana, Weeks of Massachusetts and Burton of Ohio, but it was hoped to enlist all of the other allied candidacies, Sherman of Illinois, Root of New York, Cummins of Iowa, Knox of Pennsylvania and those with a scattered following. The advocates of the nomination of Fairbanks were the most insistent, because he was the only one of the allies who made a gain on the second ballot, at the Coliseum. All of them agreed, however, that if Colonel Roosevelt should make a selection of some of the other candidates they would abide by his decision and do their utmost to nominate that man.

Root Prominent in Plans.

Former Senator Root of New York figured prominently in the plans of the combination as many of the political leaders opposed to the nomination of Hughes argued that they must consider the supposed ambition of Colonel Root to get the Republican nomination in 1920 if it is defeated in 1916. On account of Mr. Root's advanced age it was said that Colonel Roosevelt might favor him over others.

The former senator from New York is popular with most of the prominent Republican leaders. If it were believed that he could be elected, it is known he would be favored by many of them on account of his recognized mental fitness for the presidency.

The greatest element of doubt in the situation concerns the supporters of Cummins of Iowa and LaFollette of Wisconsin because of their progressive tendencies. When released from their pledge these delegates, the favorite son combination fears, will go in a body to the support of Justice Hughes.

Profess Not to Be Alarmed.

The Hughes managers profess not to be alarmed by reports that the favorite sons were organizing for a fight against the justice. Their optimism was based on their belief that many of the instructed delegates cannot be transferred at will from one allied candidate to another and that by any swaps attempted, Hughes is bound to gain strength. They repeated their claims that Hughes would be nominated, they thought, on the first ballot today and certainly not later than the second which will be the fourth taken by the convention.

As the night wore on meager details of the anti-Hughes conference became known. George W. Perkins, of the Progressive convention, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania and a number of others met early.

The spokesman for the Republican faction convinced Mr. Perkins that because of personal prejudices against Colonel Roosevelt held by many of the delegates chiefly on account of the colonel leaving the party four years ago, he could not under any circumstances gather more than 350 votes in the Republican convention in which 494 votes are a majority.

Perkins Thinks Root Stands Chance.

Mr. Perkins told the Republican members of the conference that next to nominating Colonel Roosevelt, he desired above all to prevent the nomination of Justice Hughes. He asserted that if Justice Hughes were nominated Colonel Roosevelt would not support him and the Republican ticket certainly would be defeated. He thought Mr. Root was the one member of the allied force who stood a chance of nomination and win the support of the colonel. He dismissed as unworthy of serious consideration the claims of other allied candidates. Some of the other Progressives who were consulted concerning this effort to bring the two factions together feared that Mr. Root's political relations with several of Colonel Roosevelt's political enemies would make it impossible for the colonel to support Root. William Barnes, Jr., was mentioned in this connection.

If the allies are able to effect this combination with the Progressives and gain the endorsement of Colonel Roosevelt it was said the Progressive party would be given the vice-presidential nomination and several of the Progressive platform planks would be accepted by the Republicans.

Hughes Holds Field

CHICAGO, June 9.—On the two ballots taken tonight in the Republican national convention Justice Hughes held the field and gained strength. His supporters, confident that another ballot would give him a majority, resisted adjournment but the convention, tired and worn out with a continuous ten hour session was determined to rest and adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It was the first time since 1888 that a Republican convention has taken more than one ballot to choose a presidential nominee. On the first ballot, Justice Hughes polled 253 1-2 votes. He got 42 from his own state and aside from Oregon and Florida, the remainder were largely scattering. On the second ballot he increased to 328 1-2 votes. It required 494 votes to nominate.

Only Three Make An Increase

Colonel Roosevelt's topmost strength in the first day's balloting was 81 votes. Beside Justice Hughes, the colonel and Charles W. Fairbanks and Coleman DuPont of all the seventeen men who had votes on the first ballot alone made an increase on the second.

The expected demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt when he was nominated by Senator Fair of New Mexico lasted 41 minutes and broke the record for other candidates. It was largely a gallery demonstration and the participation was scattered from the delegate section. The Fairbanks demonstration ran next with 55 minutes, the Burton demonstration lasted 34 minutes and the Hughes demonstration lasted 20 minutes.

On the first ballot the delegates followed their instructions, voting for favorite sons and primary choices. Senator Weeks got 105; Elihu Root 103; Cummins 85; Fairbanks 74 1-2; Sherman 66; Roosevelt 65 and Knox 36. Henry Ford of Michigan got 30 votes by instruction. Former President Taft got 14 from Texas and the scattering included complimentary votes for Borah, Willis and McCall and the instructed votes for other candidates. On the second ballot, Michigan moved over 28 to Hughes and gave Colonel Roosevelt two, McCall of Massachusetts turned his vote to the justice amid great applause; Senator Lodge, who had nominated Senator Weeks turned his vote to Colonel Roosevelt; W. Murray Crane announced his vote for Hughes; Missouri gave the justice 22 of her 36; New Jersey gave him 16. The New York delegation vote on the second ballot stood Hughes 43, Root 42, and Roosevelt 2. Pennsylvania's second ballot was Knox 36, Roosevelt 22; John Wanamaker 5; Hughes 8; Dupont 2; Root 1 and one not voting.

Governor Brumbaugh Withdraws. Before the second ballot was taken one of the favorite sons, Governor Brumbaugh withdrew and proposed the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt. The other favorite sons remained thru the balloting. On the second ballot one vote was cast for Major General Leonard Wood and one for Chairman Harding.

Tomorrow, the Hughes supporters predict, they will continue to draw strength and nominate their candidate.

"We quit while we were growing," declared the Hughes people. An analysis showing where the gains of Justice Hughes came from on the second ballot, follows:

In all Justice Hughes gained 75 votes on the second ballot. He gained 1 in Alabama, 2 in California, 1 in Georgia, 1 in Kentucky, 2 in Louisiana, 2 in Maine, 8 in Massachusetts, 28 in Michigan, 1 in Missouri, 2 in Nebraska, 3 in New Hampshire, 4 in New Jersey, 1 in New York, 6 in Pennsylvania, 2 in South Carolina, 2 in Texas, 1 in Utah, 3 in Virginia, 3 in West Virginia, 1 in Hawaii. He lost one vote in Arkansas and one in Tennessee. Roosevelt gained 16 votes on the second ballot. One of these came from Maine, one from Massachusetts, 2 from Michigan, 15 from Pennsylvania, and 1 from Texas. He lost one vote in Idaho, 1 in South Carolina, one in Washington and 1 in Georgia.

Eleven Nominating Speeches

In ten continuous hours the delegates sat thru eleven nominating speeches which presented Justice Hughes, Elihu Root, Former Senator Burton, Senator Weeks, T. Coleman DuPont, Senator Sherman, Former Senator Fairbanks, Senator Cummins, Colonel Roosevelt, Senator LaFollette and Governor Brumbaugh. There were a various number of seconding speeches. Ten had been planned for Colonel Roosevelt and

War News Summarized

The Russians are keeping up with success their offensive against the Austro-Hungarians from the Pripiet river to the Rumanian border along a front of some 250 miles. The troops of Emperor Nicholas have crossed the Strypa river in Galicia and reached the Zlota Lipa river. Petrograd reports that 1,114 officers and more than 64,700 men have been taken prisoner since the present great drive against the Austro-Hungarians began.

East of Lutsk, near the center of the advancing Russian line, General Brusiloff's troops have made important advances along the Strypa river and the Kovel Rovno railway. It is reported from Petrograd that German troops have been sent to aid the Austrians.

Vienna admits that the Austrian troops have reached new positions on the river Strypa in Volhynia, after fighting rear guard actions with the Russians.

The Germans after their successful thrust in the Thiaumont farm, have ceased for the moment their infantry attacks against this section of the Verdun front, Paris reports. Their bombardment however, has continued to be heavy in the region south of the Thiaumont farm in the Chapitte wood, in the Fumin wood and south of Damph. On the west bank of the Meuse several attacks by German infantry against Hill 304 have been repulsed by the French.

Under the pressure of infantry and artillery attacks, the Italian troops have withdrawn to new positions in the zone east of Asiago and east of the Campolongo valley. This is admitted by Rome and Vienna officially claims further gains on the Asiago highlands. The Austro-Hungarians reported the number of Italians taken prisoner since the beginning of the month as 12,400.

King Constantine suggested an order demobilizing ten class of the Greek army amounting to 150,000 men. Paris considers this action as being the result of pressure by the entente allies. The demobilization order, it reported from Athens, may bring about the downfall of the Zouglouf ministry.

BRITISH CRUISER HAMPSHIRE WAS SEEN TO BE AFIRE BEFORE SINKING

Kitchener and Members of his Staff were in a Boat Which Got Clear of Wreck But Was Swamped in Terrific Sea.

Aberdeen, Scotland, June 10.—The British Cruiser Hampshire was seen to be afire before she sank off the Orkney Islands while carrying Earl Kitchener, the British war minister, to Russia according to statements of men on trawlers and steamers arriving here from the Orkneys. The disaster occurred last Monday night, only an hour after Earl Kitchener and members of his staff had embarked on the cruiser at the extreme north of Scotland. One trawler reported that the warship appeared to have blown up, although no explosion was heard, probably on account of the terrific storm that was raging. Twenty minutes after she was seen in distress and on fire the Hampshire sank between Harwich Head and Brough of Burray off the western coast of the mainland of the Orkneys.

The part from the cruiser which was flung ashore with twelve of the men from the Hampshire clinging to it was discovered by a policeman who was searching along the rocky and desolate coast. The men were battered and exhausted. A few of them murmured, "Kitchener was on board," and then fell asleep. About eighty bodies were found along the cliffs, many of them still warm.

In their terrific battling with the sea the clothing of some of the men had been torn from their bodies. Their hands and feet had been mutilated in desperate efforts to climb the cliffs.

According to the reports, Earl Kitchener and the members of his staff were placed in one of the ship's boats which got clear of the wreck but was swamped in the terrific sea that was running.

ONLY AGREEMENT CAN STOP MOOSE

Progressive Delegates Seem Determined to Name Roosevelt

STAVE OFF NOMINATION

Delegates Consent to Adjourn Only After Repeated Assurances T. R. Desired It

BURAH MAKES ADDRESS

AUDITORIUM HALL, Chicago, June 9.—Theodore Roosevelt will be nominated for President tomorrow by the Progressive national convention unless there is some political miracle—an agreement between its conferees and those from the Republican convention or direct, emphatic word from Mr. Roosevelt himself that the Progressive nomination would not be accepted.

For hours today the leaders of the convention staved off a nomination that they knew and every delegate in the hall knew was crowding forward with the hours themselves and would no more be stopped than an avalanche if once the convention was assured that the last hope of peace with the Republicans was gone and Mr. Roosevelt's nomination at the Coliseum could not be accomplished.

Hold Three Sessions.

After three sessions that ran thru the gamut of emotions from hysteria for Mr. Roosevelt to a calm dispassionate discussion of planks in the platform the convention adjourned at 9:58 tonight until 10:30 a. m., tomorrow.

It was only after repeated assurances from the leaders that Colonel Roosevelt himself desired that the nomination be postponed and oratory that played upon their good nature that the delegates swallowed their own convictions that the nomination was the real and only business to be considered and consented to quit the hall for the night.

All day the delegates kept on guard while the leaders watched, or listened over the telephone to detect any unexpected action on the part of the Republicans. As the ballots were taken in the Coliseum they waited and listened and kept their tempers. They were told they must "keep the faith and allow two ballots to be taken by the Republicans according to the agreement between the peace conferees and approved by Colonel Roosevelt himself. The approval of the colonel was a trump card held up the sleeves of the leaders, but never played, for when the Coliseum quit for the night the delegates tired out with long sitting in the hot sticky theater were willing to wait for a nomination.

"Twenty four hours more won't make any difference," said Governor Hiram Johnson. The crowd agreed and accepted the motion to adjourn.

Borah Addresses Convention.

One of the incidents of the day, and one of the most dramatic, was the sudden appearance of Senator Borah of Idaho, a delegate to the Republican convention and one of the peace conferees. He got a reception that rose to the high ceiling of the theater and swelled out into the streets, but when he came to speak the old desire for Roosevelt flamed out again. The senator spoke briefly, he hoped for harmony and peace and the spirit of get together, but he promised to follow Mr. Roosevelt with all the ardor he was capable of if he should be the nominee of the two parties.

There was little routine business during the day. The platform was tentatively agreed upon with only a few changes. A fight to insert a prohibition plank was beaten by a vote of 523 to 82 after the leaders had explained at length that to put it in meant that prohibition and not Americanism would then become the main issue of the coming campaign. For the rest the delegates just cheered and listened. Realizing that an outbreak might be averted only by keeping them in good humor the leaders recognized man after man in the hall, called them to the platform and allowed them to play on the crowd's good nature and its sense of humor.

Before adjournment the delegates were told of the results of the first two ballots at the Coliseum. They took comfort from the vote for Mr. Roosevelt and the motion to end the session was unopposed.

James R. Garfield of Ohio, made the adjournment motion and the delegates left the hall, just twelve hours after they entered it this morning.

FATHERS OF ORPET AND LAMBERT GIRL TESTIFY

HOLD COURT ROOM FULL OF SPECTATORS TENSE WITH INTEREST

Lambert Slowly Tells Story of How He Found His Daughter Dead in Helm's Woods—Surprise is Sprung When State Calls Orpet to Stand.

Waukegan, Ill., June 9.—Testimony of Frank Lambert and Edward Orpet, respective fathers of Marion Lambert and Will H. Orpet, this afternoon held a court room full of spectators tense with interest at the trial of the Wisconsin University student for the murder of his former sweetheart.

Lambert, bent with age and his face wrinkled with hard lines of sorrow, slowly told the story of how he found his daughter dead in Helm's woods and was composed throughout the questioning of both the state and the defense.

A surprise was sprung at the close of the cross-examination of Lambert when the state called to the stand Edward Orpet. It was a move not expected by the attorneys for the defense and created a stir in the court room. The father of the accused was on the stand until late in the day.

Edward Orpet testified that he kept a half pound of cyanide of potassium in the greenhouse, a door of which was left unlocked. Asked to identify forty four letters said by the state to have been written by Young Orpet to Miss Lambert, he said that he could identify but two which were signed "Will." The others were signed "Billy." Mr. Orpet said that there was no one in his family named "Billy."

On examining the dead body of his daughter in the woods Lambert testified that he had observed scratches on her face. They had not been there the night before he declared. He also testified that although he had a quantity of potassium he kept it in a locked closet and the only key never left his possession.

Adjournment was taken until Monday.

ROOSEVELT ASSUMES PERSONAL DIRECTION OF MOOSE CONVENTION

Colonel Appears Well Pleased With Result of Second Republican Ballot, Which Left Hughes Far Short of Enough Delegates to Win.

Oyster Bay, June 9.—Immediately after the adjournment of the Republican convention tonight, Colonel Roosevelt assumed personal direction of the Progressive convention thru his lieutenants over the long distance telephone. He expected to be up most of the night making plans for tomorrow.

Colonel Roosevelt was kept in close touch with the balloting in Chicago by Progressive leaders over the telephone and by the newspaper correspondents at Oyster Bay. He appeared well pleased with the result of the second ballot which left Hughes far short of enough delegates to win the nomination.

Colonel Roosevelt feels that the Hughes adherents will not be able to gain further strength on succeeding ballots, and he seemed to attach significance to the fact that it was Senator Penrose who moved for an adjournment.

It is the belief of Colonel Roosevelt that the maximum of Hughes strength was reached on the second ballot, and that his own chances of getting the nomination were thereby increased.

PARTY DESIGNATIONS OBSOLETE---BLYTHE

Do Not Define Political Beliefs and Divisions of the People

PARTY SYSTEM ARCHAIC

TERMS ROOSEVELT A RADICAL

(By Samuel G. Blythe.)
(Copyright, 1916, by the Central Press Association.)

CHICAGO, June 9th.—Whatever may be the outcome of the balloting at the Republican National Convention, which, as I write, is wearily listening to the clip-trap orators for clap-trap candidates for the presidential nomination, and rising, at irregular intervals, to manifest artificial enthusiasm for manufactured aspirants for the favor of the delegates, one fundamental political fact that has been brought out into clearer relief by the futile and fatuous proceedings of the past week in Chicago; and still further emphasized by the even more futile and more fatuous maneuverings that preceded the Chicago gathering.

Party Designations Obsolete. The fundamental fact is this: the present party designations in the United States are obsolete, archaic, ineffective, and dismally do not define the political beliefs and divisions of the people.

Nor do the political principles of the lingering leaders of the Republican party, for example, try to hold the masses of the party in line for, and in advocacy of, have any relation to the real beliefs and tents of a great portion of the men in this country, who, having no other chance for political affiliation, continue in a nominal sense Republicans.

Same is True of Democrats.

It is so with the Democrats, but the fact is not so apparent because the Democrats are held together by the cohesive power of administration, place and advantage. They are reasonably uniform, to outside appearances, and in outside performances, because they have the offices. If the positions of the two parties were reversed, with the Republicans in and the Democrats out, the Democrats would display the same divergences.

The United States has made considerable progress in the past forty years in many material and altruistic ways, but it has made no appreciable progress in political methods, nor in rational political division. This convention and the methods of its organization, its management and its conduct does not differ except in detail from a convention held forty years ago. Imagine representative of men and women who comprise considerably more than half of the total population of the United States, sitting for eight or nine hours in a big barn of a structure, and listening to speech after speech extolling the merits of various self-seeking candidates for the dignified and powerful office of president; when both speakers, those spoken to and those spoken of, all knew that the men they are advancing have no chance for advancement, nor the slightest hope of nomination. Imagine 985 supposedly sane delegates, and several thousand others, supposedly sane, too, listening to this amount of guff, punk, piffle and slush for that length of time, when the same result could have been achieved by simply writing the names of the aspirants on a blackboard, for not a vote was changed by any speech made.

Notable Tribute to Hughes

The fact that the name of Hughes has persisted in this campaign is a somewhat remarkable tribute to the man. He has been out of politics for almost a decade. He has sought no office and has not stood as a candidate in this campaign and yet there are about as many men thinking of him as there are thinking of the most active and vigorous of the aspirants, namely, the colonel himself. That so many think so well of Hughes is, we repeat, a tribute to his worth.

The present presidential year will be marked by greater intensity of patriotism and Americanism than any national campaign since 1860.

The Platform.

The platform adopted by the republican national convention in Chicago is worthy the best traditions of the party. It provides in effect for preparedness, for an army and navy which shall be adequate for the proper defense of the country, for Americanism; an Americanism, which shall mean, in truth, America first. It demands proper protection for our citizens and investments in Mexico; it demands a tariff which will be reasonable in its provisions, and which shall provide protection for American industry and for American labor. The "reasonableness" is to be determined by an intelligent commission as was provided by President Taft, which was destroyed by President Wilson, who now proposes to restore it under a democratic label. The platform makes the proper provision for handling the immigration problem at the close of the present war in Europe. It declares for the proper recognition of labor and protection for it; for a merchant marine, which shall receive the proper compensation from the government, but sensibly declares absolutely against government ownership, for the reason that government ownership is bound to prove a financial failure.

The above planks embody essentially all that is demanded by the American people. It embodies those principles to which the American people have declared their allegiance time and again. It offers a reproof to the aimlessness of the present administration which has refused to protect American citizens in Mexico.

There is no need to place artificial warmers at the feet of national politics, this year.

THE GLAD MONTH

I love the balmy month of June, when all the sunlit plain is strewn with handsome growing things; when every bird's so full of glee it takes its perch upon a tree, and hums itself and sings. 'Tis then the world seems at its best, for at Nature's mild behest, it sheds its hoary years, and scarce seems old enough to vote, as 'twas when Father Adam sate his pair of brindled steers. From my den window I can see a poor old dead and withered tree, that lightning hit one day; but June is draping it with vines, and each green tendril, as it twines, will hide some small decay. June has the warm, reviving breath; she hates the sight and chill of death and hides the tombs with grass; Old Winter wounds and mauls and wars, but June, she covers up the scars—which come again, alas! June says, "Forget all thoughts of doom! Ye are the fragrance and the bloom, the roses blushing red; enjoy this month while it endures, enjoy the world while it is yours,—you'll be a long time dead!"

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

June 10, 1893—Father Jacques Gravier gave a feast to all the Christian Indians at the Illinois mission.

the ranks of the Democratic national committee and that murmurs are being heard on every hand, because, forsooth, the president of the United States, has named the temporary and permanent chairmen of the Democratic national convention without consulting either the members of the committees, the leaders of the party or any of the delegates to that convention. In the exercise of that power which has made him the Democratic party, President Wilson has indicated that he would have for temporary chairman of the convention Ex-Gov. Glynn of New York, and as permanent chairman the Hon. Ollie James of Kentucky. These gentlemen are both confirmed in the faith and belong to the rock-rooted, mountain-buttressed section of Democracy, and Mr. Wilson assumed that because of this fact and the further fact that he had picked them ought to make them satisfactory to the rank and file. The roughnecks in the party have protested, however, and are now lifting their voices in prolonged howls against "bossism," "one-man rule," and similar expressions of disapprobation. All of which would seem to indicate that there may be some fun at the St. Louis convention also.

Who Started the War?

The Crown Prince was having a nice little chat with his father, the "Kaiser," and apropos of nothing, said: "Father, who started this war?" "I know, but I won't tell," said his father, playfully. "Did George start it?" persisted the youth, with a grin. "No," said his father. "Did cousin Nicholas?" "No," said papa. "Did Francis Joseph?" "No," said the old man. "Well, who did then?" "I'll tell you, son. You remember Teddy Roosevelt came out of Central Africa and called on us several years ago and I showed him our magnificent army. I showed him our great and glorious navy. I showed him the Zepps and the submarines and the gas bags, and Teddy, greatly impressed, slapped me on the back and said, 'Bill, my boy, you can lick the world, and like a damned fool, I believed him.'"

This is the first time that a Republican convention has taken the second ballot since 1892.

Would Create New Committee

A new measure fathered by President Wilson proposes to create a committee of six members of the cabinet, with an appropriation of $200,000, to appoint a council of seven specialists who shall serve without pay and whose duty it shall be to aid the cabinet. The worst of it is that the seven men would have no voice in the expenditure of the $200,000. The American people have become tired with the way this administration spends money. If the council of seven specialists were to have charge, perhaps there would be some public sentiment in favor of the scheme.

The Second Peace Conference

Another conference of Republican and Progressive leaders was called last night in Chicago at eleven o'clock. The question of success or defeat for the Republican party at the polls next fall lies wholly with the delegates to the Republican and Progressive national conventions. The anxiety of the country in the outcome of their deliberations is reflected in the great interest everywhere in every move they make. The delegates to those conventions know very well what the situation is. They know as well as any one that the political fate of Woodrow Wilson and the Democracy lies wholly with the power of those delegates. If they choose to satisfy personal greed and animosity at the expense of the country, well and good. The country will have to stand for it. They must know that the great mass of the voters demand of them that they unite upon a candidate whom the voters abroad can support. It is not the fate of the Republican or the Progressive party which is now in the balance, but the fate of the United States. Peace with honor and common sense is what is demanded of the delegates of the two rival conventions in Chicago. The fate of the nation hangs in the balance as the conferees debate. The actions of these great national bodies at this morning's session will quickly tell the story of what the night's conference has brought about. Will it be unity and harmony or continued division and discord?

MISS LORETTA FARRELL OF MURRAYVILLE

has been a guest of Miss Ella Dwyer of East College avenue this week. Miss Farrell attended the teachers' institute sessions.

SUCCESSFUL WEEK CLOSED AT COUNTY INSTITUTE

Enrollment Has Been Good and Attendance Record Breaking—The Session Friday.

With an average attendance of 240 per day and a total enrollment of 268, the Morgan County Teachers' institute this year was one of the most successful ever held. The final sessions of the institute were held Friday afternoon in the high school auditorium.

Resolutions of thanks were drafted by a committee on resolutions and unanimously adopted by the teachers assembled. On the morning program Dr. Lowden spoke on "The Psychology of Teaching," and he was followed by Dr. Krebs, who spoke upon the theme, "Constructive Imagination." The company was favored with a vocal solo by Miss Rebecca Scheibel of Illinois College Conservatory. Miss Scheibel sang, "Love is Meant to Make You Glad," by German and "Just You" by Burleigh. As an encore she gave "The Shadow March" by Del Riego. Miss Ruth Duncan was her accompanist. "Reconstructive Imagination" was the theme of a talk by Dr. Krebs Friday afternoon, and "The Pleasure and Influence of School Gardening" was Dr. Lowden's subject. Dr. Krebs gave a piano selection in the illustration of his theme. Harold Dunlap accompanied by Prof. W. E. Kitch, gave a violin solo, "Spanish Dance," by Burleigh. "Adoration," by Borowski was given as an encore. "There Was a Man" and "His Answer" were quartet numbers ably given by Hiram Day, Ernest Fernandez, Russell Oliver and Usher Gevea. Following are the resolutions adopted:

We, the teachers of Morgan County, feel that this Institute has been one of the most interesting we have ever attended, and we wish to express our appreciation to those who have helped to make the meetings so successful.

First, we wish to thank the Board of Education for our meeting place.

Second, we are grateful to our Superintendent, Mr. Vasconcellos, for providing us with a program worth while. We have attended the lectures not only because we thought it our duty, but because we felt it a pleasure. The freedom which he allowed us has been very much appreciated.

To Miss Hammond, Miss Wardhaugh, and Mr. Morrison, we wish to say, "Your music has made our meetings most pleasant." Mr. Morrison arranged for the outside musical numbers and thru him we wish to thank those who were kind enough to divide their talent with us.

And shall we say that we save some of the best things until the last? The mention of the flowers reminds us of Dr. Lowden. During this meeting he has brought to us his own love of the beautiful, whether in our own gardens or in the heights of Switzerland. His lectures have been heart whole and we thank him for his painstaking explanations and the good ideas he has brought us.

Dr. Krebs has proved a most instructive speaker. Not only were his psychological lectures of educational value, but they afforded us real joy, because of his very easy and interesting delivery. He has impressed us with his logic and he has pleased us with his keen sense of humor.

Again we say: as a whole, this has been a week of profit and pleasure.

In his haste the boy ran over a four dollar stand of bees, and in ten minutes looked like a watery summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and, failing to see a barbed-wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh

26 Extra Features

In addition, this New Mitchell has 26 features not found in other cars.

Some are extra equipment—like a power tire pump, reversible searchlights, gasoline primer on instrument board, etc.

Some are comfort features, like the Bate cantilever springs. No other car ever built compares in easy riding.

Some are beauties and conveniences—things you want and things you'd miss. When you see them—one by one—you will not want a car without them.

The Mitchell factory—covering 45 acres—was designed and equipped by John W. Bate, the famous efficiency expert. He has worked out here 10,000 factory economies. In ordinary plants a car like this would cost 20 per cent more to build.

That saving pays for these extras. They give you by far the greatest value to be found in a high-grade car. You will find a hundred things here to delight you.

Pleasant Reflections

It's a big load off one's mind to know that his storage battery is working right. Our expert service is an assurance of good starting and lighting.

Use Care in Starting

Free inspection of any battery at any time

Most all of us have gone along the street at some time or other, and heard a motor churn and churn under the power of an electric starter without any apparent results.

This is one of the most frequent causes of storage battery trouble according to a service representative of the Willard Storage Battery Co. He explained that very few motorists seemed to realize the immense amount of electrical power which is required to turn a motor, and what a considerable amount of driving at charging speed is necessary to restore same amount of current to the battery.

A little care in operating the self-starter will obviate this trouble. The driver should always make sure that the starting switch is thrown before attempting to operate the self-starter. Sometimes the gasoline tank is empty and under such conditions no amount of cranking would start the motor.

The ignition button should always be pressed in firmly and all wire connections should be tight. Occasionally the gasoline mixture is too weak and on most cars this can be adjusted from the dash. The coil and distributor should be kept perfectly dry in order for the current to reach the spark plugs.

We have as complete a workshop and a force of as good mechanics as will be found in this section of the state. No job too large or too small but what it can be handled and done in the right way.

OBSOLETE--BLYTHE

Cannot Define Affiliation.

Imagine men, in this year 1916, howling for this man or that man, and parading and posturing and doing all the petty and absurd things that have been done in this city since last week at this time, with no other incentive than a party affiliation they cannot define, nor analyze, nor explain save on the basis of a very vague hope, that in the transmission of the pork that comes with power, they may get some small portion of it at some nebulous future time. Such convention proceedings as these have been, and as those at St. Louis will be, are neither intelligent nor do they show that our politics is marching in step with almost any other features of our national life. And the chief reason for this is that our party definitions do not define; our political methods are traditional; our constructive political thinking is at a standstill. We haven't gone forward an inch in forty years, so far as party designation epitomizing party meaning and party policy is concerned.

Party System is Archaic.

The big outstanding American political fact, emphasized again here this week, is that the party system of the United States, instead of comprising a division of the people into two dominant parties, is hopelessly a misnomer, and is economically, sociologically, politically, and nationally archaic.

Instead of being one united and cohesive Republican party, there are two Republican parties. It is the same with the Democrats, but not so apparent for the reason I have set forth. There is a radically Republican party, and a conservative Republican party. There is a radical Democratic party and a conservative

Democratic party. The Progressives typify in a way, the radicalism of some of the Republican, but not entirely, for the Progressives were, in their birth, and at their highest efficiency, a one man party and not a radical party per se, except in some small measure, and many radical Republicans did not join them.

This Republican struggle here means nothing save the tottering survival of a crowd of former beneficiaries striving to get back into the trough. It doesn't typify either the real political thinking of the radical Republicans or of the conservative Republicans.

It is hybrid, hemaphrodite. It is so with the Democratic party, but not so clearly discovered because the Democrats are in power.

No Real Leader in G. O. P.

There is no unity of thought among the Republicans nor any clarity of action. They stand together in a half-hearted manner because there is no other place to stand. There isn't a leader among the Republicans who is a real leader, and this presidential contest witnesses that convincingly. Think of a supposedly great political organization that can muster but two major candidates for President, and one of those a bolter who defeated that party's regular candidate for the presidency by his bolt; and the other a justice of the highest court who has made no announcement on any public questions save in a judicial manner for six years.

These, absolutely, are the only two men of any political availability in, or trying to get in, a party that had the presidency of this country, since 1861, with the exception of twelve years.

The reason for this is that the Republican party, as well as the Democratic party, is merely an invertebrate organization, instead of a vertebrate and virile institution. Its thinking is as scrambled as its programs. It is held together by tradition, and not by concord of purpose or thought on principle. Half of it—perhaps more—is radical and the rest of it is conservative. Get to the bottom of the Democratic party and strip it of the union that comes from present authority in our governmental affairs, and the same situation exists.

The inconclusiveness, demagoguery, appeal to cheap patriotism, old time political tricks, shifting, trimming, hypocrisy, intrigue and manipulation that have been shown here mean nothing and are nothing save a survival of obsolete methods, and obsolete politicians who are seeking to gain their own ends by using the term Republican as a mask behind which to operate.

Roosevelt is a Radical.

Roosevelt isn't a Republican. He is a radical. And, if by any strange chance he should be named by this Republican convention, he will be nominally a Republican candidate, because there isn't any other designation for him, or the men who named him as yet, but, in reality, he will be a radical candidate. And he would be named over the protest, and because of the bowing to expediency by the conservative Republicans. Now, if Hughes is nominated, he will be nominated as a conservative, of sorts but in reality just that, and because of the bowing to expediency by the radicals in the Republican party.

Neither will be a candidate of a real party, because the Republican party is, in its honest division, two parties, one radical and the other conservative, trying to be an aut, in its political action, and widely divergent in its political faith and thinking. In similar case, the Democrats would be in the same anomalous situation.

The real important development of this convention, with all its backing and fillings, and futility and fatuousness, and bogus pretensions of harmonious thought and action is that, inevitably there will be a realignment of party affiliations and a revision of party names, shall be a radical party and a conservative party, and that is as sure as the future life of this republic is ours.

altho Chairman Harding agreed to recognize them all they did not all appear. The demonstrations as candidates were nominated were the usual cheering, roaring, marching affairs.

During the uproar that greeted the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt the police had to be sent to the galleries to stop women tearing bunting from the railings. Otherwise the demonstrations, altho noisy and prolonged were good natured and orderly.

Tomorrow the convention leaders expect to dispose of both presidential and vice-presidential nominations. When the delegates take their seats at 11 o'clock for the third ballot, it will be Hughes against the field. The total vote of the convention fixed by the credentials committee at 989 was reduced to 987 because the two Porto Rican delegates failed to qualify. This reduced the number necessary for a nomination to 494 instead of 495 as previously had been announced.

C. & A. TRAINS NOW STOP
AT MCCARTY'S SWITCH

C. & A. trains have recently been stopping at McCarty's Switch and this will prove a great convenience, no doubt, to the residents of the community. Tho there is an elevator there and platform for freight, the railroad company for a long time refused to stop the passenger trains within two miles of another station. Finally people in that vicinity called on the state utilities commission and made an urgent petition to be placed on the map and the result was an order to stop passenger trains there, that is, local trains.

Dumplings

For Soups, Stews and Fricassee Chicken

Left overs of roast lamb, veal or beef, the cheaper cuts of fresh meats, and fowls too old for roasting, make delicious and nourishing stews. K C Dumplings make them doubly attractive and the whole dish is most economical—an object to most families while meats are so high and must be made to go as far as possible.

K C Dumplings

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the well known baking expert.
2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 1/2 cup shortening; milk or cream.

Sift together three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough less stiff than for biscuits.

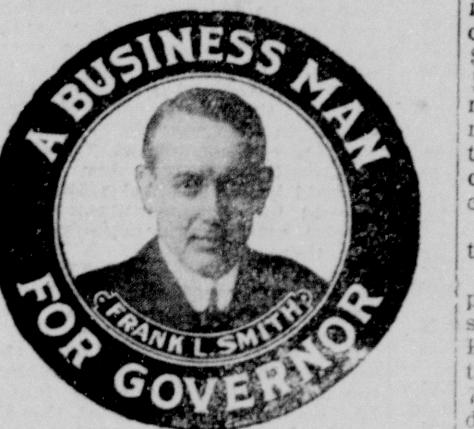

Allow the stew to boil down so that the liquid does not cover the meat or chicken. Add half a cup of cold water to stop its boiling and drop the dough in large spoonfuls on top of the meat or chicken. Cover and let boil again for 15 minutes.

Made with K C Baking Powder and steamed in this way, dumplings are as light as biscuits and are delicious with thickened gravy.

This recipe is adapted from one for Chicken Pot Pie in "The Cook's Book" by Janet McKenzie Hill, editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine. EVERY WEEK SHAMPOO is an anti-septic oil shampoo that cleanses and purifies the scalp thoroughly and leaves the hair just as nature intended, soft, fluffy, silky and the scalp slightly moist with oil, but no surplus oil in the hair. LIGHT COMPANY LAYS COMPROMISE RATE OFFER BEFORE COMMISSION

If New Rates Are Accepted and 20 Year Street Railway and 30 Year Gas and Electric Franchises Granted Them, the Company Agrees to Accept Paving Assessments.

In accordance with the plan proposed and authorized at the meeting of business men, members of the city commission, and complainants in the rate case with representatives of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company Tuesday, May 30th, in this city, L. E. Fischer, yesterday appeared before the State Utilities Commission in Chicago with a statement of rates which the company "could accept" and offers in lieu of those handed down in the ruling of the commission.

A. D. Stevens, the attorney for Doctors Bowe and Baker, was present at the conference. His clients had wired him their view in regard to a compromise in the case and Attorney Stevens conveyed this to the commission after the company's statement had been offered.

The changes as suggested in the compromise are about as follows:

In place of the charge of $1.05 per thousand cubic feet gross, with 19c deduction for prompt payment, the company now proposes three prices. First, for consumption of 1,000 cubic feet or less, per month, the new rate would be $1.10 per thousand cubic feet. For the next 4,000 cubic feet consumption in the same month, $1.05 and for all over 5,000 cubic feet $1. Ten cents deduction for payment within ten days. The minimum bill for each meter is raised to 50 cents per month, while the commission's ruling declared 25 cents adequate.

No change is suggested in the electric power rates.

The residential electric rates as proposed would increase the consumption in the first step from 15 K. W. H. to 25 K. W. H. increase the minimum bill from 50 cents to 75 cents per month, and change the discount from 1c per K. W. H. to 10 per cent of the gross bill.

The business electric rate as proposed would increase the consumption in the first step from 50 K. W. H. to 100 K. W. H., increase the consumption in the next step from 100 K. W. H. to 300 K. W. H., increase the minimum bill from 50 cents to 75 cents per month, and change the discount from 1c per K. W. H. to 10 per cent of the gross bill.

At the meeting of the business men there was some talk of the city purchasing current for street lighting and pumping at the switchboard of the present city plant, if the price made by the company should be less than the cost of producing same by the city. Also this was not made a provision of the acceptance of the rates, it was presented to the commission in the company's statement. The suggestion, made to Mr. Fischer while here, that the commission be asked to ascertain the present cost of generating this current at the city plant and fixing a price if it could be bought cheaper were incorporated in the suggestion.

The suggestions made in regard to the purchase of current, franchises, paving, etc., would not prevent the change of rates as outlined but are part of the general plan discussed by Mr. Fischer when here.

It is to be hoped that the commission will make a decision on this matter within a short time so that the people and the company will understand what the rates should be. The commission, before making its first ruling in this matter, weighed all the evidence carefully and made its findings deliberately. It hardly seems probable therefore that this same commission will reverse their ruling in short a time without any justifiable evidence.

Mr. Fischer's Statement
The following is the statement as presented to the commission by Mr. Fischer yesterday:

The gas rate as suggested by the commission is an average of 95c net per thousand cubic feet of gas consumed. It is understood that the following rates will accomplish this result:

For a consumption of 1000 cubic feet, or less, per month—$1.10 per thousand cubic feet.

For the next 4000 cubic feet consumption in the same month—$1.05 per thousand feet.

For all over 5000 cubic feet consumption in the same month—$1.00 per thousand cubic feet.

For the payment of the bill within ten days from its date a discount of 10c per thousand cubic feet shall be allowed.

The minimum bill shall be 50c per month for each meter.

The electric power rate as already suggested by the commission shall become effective without alteration.

The residential electric rates as suggested by the commission will prevent the earning of a sufficient revenue to warrant the company in accepting same. The company, will however, accept the following changes in these rates.

Increase the consumption in the first step from 15 K. W. H. to 25 K. W. H.

Increase the minimum bill from 50c to 75c per month, and change the discount from 1c per K. W. H. to 10 per cent of the gross bill.

The business electric rates as suggested by the commission will be acceptable by the company, with the following changes:

Increase the consumption in the first step from 50 K. W. H. to 100 K. W. H.

Increase the consumption in the next step from 100 K. W. H. to 300 K. W. H.

Increase the minimum bill from 50c to 75c per month, and change the discount from 1c per K. W. H. to 10 per cent of the gross bill.

If the commission sees fit to revise its finding and will promulgate rates in accordance with the plan herein set forth, the company will accept them with the understanding that it will make them effective for a reasonable length of time. If, after such reasonable length of time, the rates are found to be inadequate the company wishes it to be understood that it will, in the proper manner, pray to this commission for relief.

The following suggestions, while not made as a condition precedent to accepting the rates, will urge for a favorable consideration by all parties interested.

The company believes it is within the power of the City of Jacksonville to render material aid in making adequate these rates by entering into a contract with the company for the purchase from the company, at the switch board of the municipal switchboard of the municipal plant of Jacksonville, Illinois, of the amount of current now produced by this municipal plant, and to further such end the company asks that the City of Jacksonville join it in requesting the commission to make a study of the cost to the City of Jacksonville of generating with its present plant the before mentioned current, and with the data of such study to promulgate a rate which will be fair and reasonable for the City of Jacksonville to pay to the company for this current, and it is proposed that the City and the Company agree that if such rate so fixed by the Commission is lower than the city's cost of generation and will by the company be considered compensatory, that then the city and the company shall be bound to enter into a contract at the rate so determined by the commission. The company agrees that such contract shall contain a provision under which the city may terminate said contract upon ninety days notice.

The company agrees that if the city and the complainants will agree to the afore mentioned rates and conditions and will grant to the company a reasonable twenty-year street railway franchise and reasonable thirty-year gas and electric franchises, the company will withdraw its objections to the paving assessments now pending and will accept said paving assessments.

Request a Fair Trial
The reply to the company's statement sent to Attorney A. D. Stevens at Chicago by Doctors E. F. Baker, Edward Bowe and Mayor Henry J. Rodgers, asks that the company give the new rates a fair trial, before making objections thereto, and states the people's side of the case in rather plain, straightforward terms. The letter follows:

Mr. A. D. Stevens,
LaSalle Hotel,
Chicago, Ill.
"Having nothing further to suggest to the commission. We are satisfied with rates named on March twenty-third. Two years was allowed for submission of evidence and as we have submitted to present rates for several years, the McKinley company certainly can bear with the proposed rates for a few months so that the commission may have some actual evidence upon which to base any required change. Since this case has been filed, the Light Company has collected something like fifty thousand dollars in excess of rate fixed by commission, and this will more than compensate them for any loss during the time they are giving the new rates a fair trial. Wire receipt of this letter."

E. F. Baker,
Edward Bowe,
Henry J. Rodgers.

L. & N. RAILROAD CHARGED WITH UNDUE POLITICAL ACTIVITY

Pres. Milton H. Smith is Summoned to Appear Before Interstate Commerce Commission Today.

Washington, June 9.—Today is the day set for the arguments on the motion filed by the Interstate Commerce Commission to compel Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville R. R. to testify to certain questions which he refused to answer at a recent hearing. The questions involve the main point of the prosecution by the government, —that the road contributed to political campaigns in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

The investigation of the railroad's affairs was begun by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1914, on authority of the United States Senate. Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee had made serious charges of political corruption, and a resolution was passed ordering an investigation. The investigators found that large amounts were paid by the railroad and its subsidiaries for "special" services and expenses. The Commission in its first report recited the alleged political activities of the roads, and its inability to set forth all the money which the carriers might have expended in political and publicity work, but the items its investigators discovered which it placed in the report under the head of political contributions run up into the millions. One big fund, it was claimed, was dispersed thru a bank in Alabama to mould public opinion in favor of the railroad's plans.

When he was testifying recently here, President Smith of the Louisville and Nashville declined to answer questions regarding campaign contributions. The government now seeks to compel him to tell the story of the road's alleged activity in politics.

Another important witness to be heard in the Louisville and Nashville case is George W. Jones of Montgomery, Ala., the road's attorney in that state. The I. C. C. reported the finding of an account opened in the name of the Immigration and Industrial Association of Alabama in 1907. "This," says the report, "records a cash advance to George W. Jones, made under authority of the first vice-president, $13,068.80 being charged to this account, and $7,868.86 being collected from others carriers who were parties to this association and credited to this account. The nature of this account is indicated by notations on the treasurer's statements of cash receipts entered therein, such as 'proportion of expenses, account adjourned session of Alabama Legislature.'"

LEADING INDUSTRIES STILL SURPASS ANY PREVIOUS YEAR

In Most Cases Capacity Operations Are Assured for Months to Come, Labor Conditions Permitting.

New York, June 9.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Leading industries still surpass in actual output the work of any previous year and in most cases capacity operations are assured for months to come, labor conditions permitting. On strictly domestic business however, the rush to buy has clearly abated, and there are more definite and convincing signs of a turn in the price situation. While in some lines the crest apparently has not yet been attained and premiums continue effective in others yielding tendencies are noted and in certain instances pressure to sell is less conspicuous by its absence. Recessions have occurred mainly in raw materials.

"Since the point has been reached at which the high costs are checking consumptive demands, the evidences of a halting in the advances and of a trend toward reaction cannot be regarded as other than wholesome in their bearing on the future. Weekly bank clearings $4,592,486,805."

CALHOUN NOMINATES SENATOR SHERMAN

RECORD IS A HIGHLY HONORABLE ONE

Former U. S. Minister to China Sketches Life of Illinois Senator From His Early Infancy up to the Present—Has Been Twice Elected to U. S. Senate.

Chicago, June 9.—William J. Calhoun of Chicago, formerly United States minister to China, in nominating Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois for presidential candidate at the Republican National Convention, to day, said:

"For more than fifty years, with the exception of three widely separated administration periods, the Republican party has governed this country.

"In its inception, it was an idealistic and emotional, a radical party. It stood for liberty and against slavery; for a civilization based on free labor and against a civilization based on slave labor; for the union and against disunion; for the payment of national debt according to the terms of the bond and against repudiation in whole or in part; for a sound and stable currency, and against a debased or fluctuating currency; and for the protection of American labor and American industries and against the depressing competition of cheaper labor and cheaper living conditions in Europe and elsewhere.

"And four years ago when it turned over the administration of public affairs to the opposing party, the country was never so prosperous, never so far advanced along all lines of intellectual, social and industrial development, and never so closely united in sympathy and in aspirations for the future, as it then was. This, in brief, is the record of the years. With confidence, we submit that record to the impartial judgment of history.

"Four years ago our party was still the majority party. In numerical strength, in mental and moral force and in adaptability to and in experience with the affairs of government, it was by far the superior party and it ought to have won in that election. But unfortunately bitter personal antagonisms, rival ambitions and factional disputes were developed that disrupted the party and it went down in the most disastrous defeat ever known in the history of American politics.

"We are now assembled as the representatives of the people to formulate a declaration of principles and policies, and to nominate candidates for president and vice president. It is a grave responsibility that rests upon us. The time is a serious one. Almost the entire world is ablaze with the fires of war. Great forces are moving, great events are happening all around us. The possibilities of danger to this country now, or in the near future, are present, as never before since the Civil War. And strange to say our opponents seem oblivious to these world wide conditions, and apparently are more intent on the size of the 'pork barrel' than they are on the size of our army and navy for defensive purposes. Under these conditions the query comes to the heart, the conscience of every delegate to this convention: Are we big enough and broad enough, are we generous and patriotic enough to subordinate our personal antagonisms, our rival ambitions, our factional differences, for the unification of our party, so that thru its success we may once more serve the best interests of the country we love?

"The personality of the candidates we nominate may have much to do with the result. I am authorized by the delegation from Illinois, and it, in turn, is instructed by the Republicans of the state, to present for your consideration a candidate for the high office of president of the United States.

"The story of his life, as I know it, is, for the most part, a very simple one; and yet it has in it many elements of the heroic which elevate it far above the level of the commonplace. He was not born in this state, as I now recall, but was brought here from another state in his early infancy and here he has ever since lived. His life was developed and amid conditions of extreme poverty, attended with unmitigated toil, but it was not the stifling, the soul shivering poverty of the slums to which he was subjected. His life was that of the son of a pioneer farmer. The air he breathed was the fresh, clear air of the forest and the open field.

"His opportunities for an education were few and irregular, and yet his desire therefore was intense. There was the country school, sometimes a pupil, sometimes a teacher; and then came the country college with its limited curriculum. He never fully realized his ambition for an education. But he early formed the habit of a student, and he has supplemented his somewhat limited preparatory achievements with wide reading and persistent study.

"He studied law and entered on the practice of that profession. His career at the bar was limited to the districts in which he lived, but his record is a highly honorable one. "He finally became interested in politics. He went to the state legislature for one or more terms. He became prominent in its deliberations and acquired a statewide reputation. He was elected lieutenant governor and served four years as president of the state senate. He was appointed by the governor chairman of a commission to reorganize and concentrate under one management the charities of the state, and he gave 4 years to that work.

"By this time he became well known to the people. His public service won for him their respect, their confidence, and, as I believe, their affections.

"He has been twice elected to the United States senate; once by the state legislature, and once by a direct vote of the people; in each instance, his election was preceded by a primary vote for the nomination.

"This is an outline of the life story of the man whose name I am instructed to submit for your consideration. As before stated, it is a simple story, the story of a man of plain habits and simple living; but a man of great courage, of clear intellect, of clean soul, and high resolve. In behalf of the state of Illinois, I nominate Lawrence Y. Sherman, as your candidate for president of the United States.

TRAINING SEASON ON IN EARNEST AT SPRINGFIELD

Many Horses and Colts Being Prepared for This Season's Campaigns at State Fair Track.

Walter Moore has a most interesting article in this week's Horse Review relative to training conditions at Springfield. L. E. Brown of Delevan has twenty five youngsters there in the capable hands of Billy Dunham. There are about seventy five horses and colts in training at the present time. John Hall of Jacksonville has a fine looking young trotter by Red Medium 2:23 1-4, named Bryce Medium, dam by Aleymont, at the track, and is reported to be showing up in good shape. The recent rains have delayed the spring workouts to some extent.

The L. E. Brown colts, by Trampfast, 2:12 1-4 and The Exponent 2:11 3-4, furnish more interest to me than all the aged horses on the grounds. Colts come to their speed practically over night, and a good one can furnish a surprise party for you almost every time you work it, which, in my opinion, is the reason trainers, once they work colts, become infatuated with training them.

Dunham has a whole cluster of good ones, but in any group you can find a star, or rather, there is always a "best one." The best one this time is a truly remarkable filly, one that I think will find it comparatively easy to break the yearling pacing record if Mr. Brown so elects. She is named The Completion, and as the name indicates, is a daughter of The Exponent, dam by Azmoor 2:20 1-2; next dam by General Benton. She is one of the best looking yearlings I have ever seen, just right for size, the richest shade bay in color, stands perfect on her feet, and is a regular sailor for a girl. Pacing seems so easy and natural that she can go a forty clip or hit up a 2:08 gait without changing poise, gait or any movement of her body. She has been a quarter in 33 3-4, and several eights in 1:16. There are twelve yearlings in Dunham's charge, eleven by The Exponent and one by Trampfast, as the latter was leased two years ago, and did not make a full season at Mr. Brown's farm. But the one by him would be my choice of any colt on the track for a race horse, as his dam is the noted producer White Hyarastus, by Whitefoot 2:19 1-4, dam of Hyper 2:08 1-4, Lord White 2:13 1-4, and others—in fact, the mare has never produced a colt yet that was not a good race horse. Her foals are always level headed, game, and have race speed. Dunham has just started with this colt, but I would feel pretty certain that I had the making of a race horse were I his fortunate owner.

The Exponent yearlings are a very smart lot, as six of them have been smarts in 2:1 to 1:18 1-2, and everyone a trotter. I did not see any of them at speed work, but several caught my eye for looks and gait. One that I was especially interested in was the two-year-old filly by The Exponent, dam Just The Thing 2:10 1-2, by Highwood 2:21 1-2. She is a sister of The Inauguration, 2:22 1-4, the foal a year older, that Alex Wishart marked last year. A model made filly for speed lines, she has a good prompt stride. Another one that I would select for a real race mare some day is a roan Trampfast filly, dam Iva Dean 2:16 1-4. She is good sized, attends strictly to business, and, judging her now, will make a trotter with race horse speed and other essential qualities. The Departure, p. 3, 2:10, by The Exponent, winner of the half-mile track pacing division of the Review futurity last fall, with a half-mile track record of 2:14 1-4, is looking extra fine, but has only been a mile in 2:28 1-2. The plans for him this year do not call for any racing until late in the season.

ANOTHER CONFIDENCE GAME

A Jacksonville man received yesterday a large advertisement of a get-rich-quick scheme in which the promoters gravely assured the public that for an investment of ten dollars a return of $10,240 might confidently be expected within the next few years. It was land deal in which the managers were going to lay out a city, sell lots and make all who put in their money millionaires. They only wanted the modest sum of half a million, after which absolutely no shares would be sold at any price so all who desired to get in on the ground floor would do well to remit early.

It seems almost incredible that any one would be taken in by such a bait. If they had placed the returns at any moderate amount they might perhaps have seemed a bit more plausible, but to hold out such generous inducements seemed preposterous.

APPOINTED DEPUTY CLERK

The following is taken from the Champaign Gazette, of June 7th: "Harry A. Day of Urbana was today appointed by County Clerk Fred Hess as deputy county clerk, taking the position of Harry Marsh, who resigned on March 1st to go into business at Tuscola." Mr. Day, who left the employ of the Champaign Abstract Co., to go into the county clerk's office started work today. His place with the abstract company has not been filled, according to W. E. Atkinson.

Mr. Day is a former resident of this city and his friends here will wish him success in his new work.

MISS PAINTER WILL TEACH NEAR PETERSBURG

ADVENTURES IN MISSISSIPPI AS TOLD BY CAPT. BOWEN

Describes Thrilling Capture of Jackson, the State Capital, by Co. A, 47th Ill. Infantry.

The stories of the great civil war will never grow old and will never be told altho some cynical critics remark that the memories of the boys who wore the blue get better each succeeding year and they are able to tell new stories right along, while if the truth were known, they fail to tell nearly all they might.

One of the commands which saw plenty of hard service was the 47th Illinois Infantry, Company A of this body was commanded by Captain J. T. Bowen of this city and he has given some reminiscence at the request of the Journal.

"As is well known, General Grant while conducting the siege of Vicksburg, left the care of Jackson's army to General Sherman, who was a whole host in himself and irresistible when he set out to accomplish anything. One day the order came to break camp and well we knew that something was doing and we were all eager for the fray. We marched along the Duckport canal enroute for Hard Time Sunday below Vicksburg for General Grant saw to it that no relief was to come to General Pemberton in command at that beleaguered city.

May 7th it was necessary for us to cross the Mississippi river but there was no bridge and it was too wide for pontoons but fortunately some gunboats were at hand and pressing these into service our command managed to get across tho it was a tedious undertaking but we finally accomplished it.

"We rested a day and then set out with Jackson, the capital of the State, as our objective point. The march was a hard one as the roads were anything but good and our loads were heavy but we plodded along making the best headway possible. We met no opposition for five days till we came to Raymond where there was a force of rebels whom we engaged. They were a determined lot and fought hard but we finally overpowered them and drove them out of the town and moved on to Mississippi Springs where we spent the night. Next day we started again and the rain fell in torrents. The roads were muddy and it seemed as if we would be kept in our ammunition dry and our spirits up. Many a joke passed along the line as one after another would call for a boat; others would suggest taking off our clothes and swimming part of the way while others suggested stopping and starting a rival to the big river. It was truly frightful and the poor horses and mules had the hardest tug of their lives but we pushed along. Sometimes a man would shout, "Dinner will soon be ready in Jackson." Another would say, "Reserve enough places for the 47th", and so we would try to keep our spirits up as best we could but it was hard work.

After a while the rain ceased and we tried to get ourselves a bit dry and comfortable and some of the more skillful ones managed to take a few "top rails" get a bit of fire and make some coffee, fry some pork and prepare a bit to eat. It has been said by some that a Yankee soldier could start fire with anything short of ice and even that might be made to burn if he were put to it. As it was we managed to get a bit of something and it tasted good indeed. That was late in the forenoon and we moved on as fast as we could, feeling that a great undertaking was ahead of us. We saw nothing of the enemy till we came within two and a half miles of Jackson when their skirmish line came in sight.

Immediately they fell back to the main force and quickly formed in line of battle. Then we knew that a fierce engagement was at hand and every man in the command was nerved to the struggle. Our gallant colonel rode along the line encouraging the men and bidding them be brave and do their duty and we all responded that we would. We marched along the Clinton road and soon the fighting began and it was furious indeed for the enemy fought with the desperation of despair. To have the capital of the state taken would be a lasting misfortune if not a disgrace and they were determined to prevent it at all hazards.

"That rebel yell I shall never forget as they charged our ranks but our boys stood firm and drove them back. The firing was constant and the result seemed to be in doubt. I never saw better soldiers in my life than those which confronted us. The force was thrown forward to prevent an attack on the forts surrounding the city for they were the last obstacle which we would encounter in our effort to take the place. Charge and counter charge were made, now one side getting an advantage and now the other. We were determined to have Jackson that day if it cost half the command and so the enemy made no lasting impression on our ranks tho a good many poor fellows felt rebel lead that day.

Back and forth we went, now one side getting the advantage and now the other. Dead and wounded men were actually heaped up and the result seemed to be in doubt till the enemy wavered for a moment when with a shout our boys pressed forward and carried the position and received the compliments of our commander who seemed to possess a charmed life for he rode fearlessly all over the field giving orders and cheering the men.

Our work was not yet done tho for the fort which protected the city was surrounded by a forest which was free from underbrush and not dense and there the enemy again took a stand. Here again a fierce fight took place and the roar of the guns and the crack of the rifles was deafening as the contest was almost hand to hand. Our side was flushed with the victory already attained, or the advantage gained while the enemy was correspondingly discouraged. The fight raged back and forth for it was well nigh the last chance and we heard the rebel officers shout to their men not to let the capital be taken at all hazards and they fought well.

Several times they tried to flank us but were prevented and as our guns told on them their ranks began to be well thinned and they were constantly losing but never lacking in courage. A determined attack by our forces made a weak spot in the enemy's lines and then rang out an order to charge with fixed bayonets. With a shout that rent the air our boys went after them. Co. A in front and chased them over their works. Our men climbed those fortifications like squirrels. A ditch had been dug about the place and tree tops had been placed so as to form a barricade but the enemy did away with some of these and our boys tore away the rest and with a fearful shout climbed over the ramparts and chased the Johnnies out of the fort and down to the Clinton road.

Co. A was the first to gain the works and the first to enter the city and it was truly a proud moment when I marched with my company up the streets. Only a part of the enemy succeeded in escaping and we took the rest of them prisoners.

Their commander, whose name I have forgotten, had his headquarters at the Hotel Bowman and he was a fine looking man. Our company quickly surrounded the house and he was called on to surrender. He came forward and offered me his sword but I told him to keep it as I had one of my own and I didn't care to humiliate him more than was necessary. He was anxious to know who was in command of the union army and I told him General Sherman.

"What? Bill Sherman?"

"That's who it is."

"For heaven's sake don't let him see me. He and I were in the same class at West Point and graduated together and I don't want him to see me here."

"I don't see how it is to be avoided."

"Let me put on a private's uniform and mingle with the rank and file if you can."

I accommodated him and later when General Sherman entered the city, he had no idea that a former classmate was so near him.

Our regiment then moved on to Vicksburg and was in the awful charge of May, 1863 where we lost a number of brave fellows and we remained in the siege till the command was surrendered."

SUMMARY OF WORK DONE BY METHODIST CONFERENCE

Dr. J. R. Harker has kindly furnished the Journal with a copy of the New York Christian Advocate containing the following admirable summary of what was accomplished by the great quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Saratoga Springs:

I. It accepted, with enthusiasm, the basic principles of Methodist union, substantially as proposed by the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and appointed an able commission to negotiate details.

II. It made over the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension upon departmental lines, adapting the organization to the call of the times.

III. It made strong declarations

MEREDOSIA ALUMNI RECEPTION AND BANQUET BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Event Marks Closing Events of Commencement Week—Other News of Meredosia.

The reception and banquet given by the Meredosia High School Alumni association marked the closing events of commencement week, and was a decided success in every respect. More than seventy members and guests were in attendance, and many more from distant points who had planned to come, were kept away on account of the inclemency of the weather.

The meeting was held in Ray Opera House, which was beautifully decorated with the 1916 class colors, king's blue and white, potted plants and pennants of other classes adorned the walls. At half past eight o'clock, the program was opened by a beautiful piano duet by Mrs. Emma Black Yost and Miss Beulah Butcher, which was greatly enjoyed by the assemblage.

Immediately following this was the welcome address of the President, Mrs. Emma L. James Looman, who extended a hearty welcome to the general alumni, and at the appointed time the class entered the hall led by Prof. O. W. Gould, who in a few well chosen words introduced the class, composed of Misses Greta Looman, Edith Brockhouse, Ada Moss, Messrs. Elmo Galoway and Ernest Northup. Mrs. Looman then continued, in appropriate words, to welcome the members of the class to the alumni association. Proud, were they indeed, to have the privilege of receiving in membership such a bright and accomplished class.

As representative of the class, Miss Ada Moss responded most happily to the welcome. They gracefully descended the steps of the stage and entered the ranks of the learned amid the applause of the distinguished gathering.

An interesting feature of the program was the roll call of all the graduating classes from 1881 to 1916, which was read by the secretary, Mrs. Ora Black Butcher. Each one was requested to respond by naming the subject of his or her graduating essay or oration. Greetings were also read from Dr. J. R. Harker of Illinois Woman's college, Prof. J. B. Blazer of Wichita, Kans., and Benjamin Decker, county superintendent of schools of Macomb.

A beautiful quartet, "Gathering Flowers in May," was rendered by Prof. and Mrs. Gould, and Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Looman. Two delightful readings were given by Misses Bessie Bolyard and Gladys Galoway. A vocal solo, "Blue Bell, Tell Me What You Dream," by Elmo Galoway, was well received. This number closed the program at the conclusion of which, the reception committee conducted the guests to their places at the tables.

Chas. H. James officiated as toastmaster, and the manner in which he presided over the after dinner talks was worthy of the many compliments paid him. Excellent toasts were given by Prof. O. W. Gould, Rev. Hancock, Rev. Hayden, Miss Rena Pond, Messrs. Edward Schaeffer, W. S. Carver, C. Wesley McLain, Wm. Pond and Clifford Castle.

Mrs. Alice Lusk Davis of Decatur, the first graduate of Meredosia high school and also the first in Morgan county outside of Jacksonville, delighted the association with her genial presence. It was a matter of regret that Mrs. Fannie Wackerle Harker, the other member of this class of '81, was unable to be present. Others present from a distance were: Messrs. Oren Hale of St. Louis, Clifford Castle of Bluffs, and Mrs. Richard Arnold of Springfield.

The Alumni officers and executive board are gratified to be able to announce to the association that after all bills were paid, there remained a balance of a few dollars which was deposited in the bank to be used for the work of association next year. The treasurer of the Alumni, Mrs. Emma Yost, has since the meeting of Tuesday night received dues from several members. If others wish to unite and be on the honor roll for this year, they will please remit to Mrs. Yost.

Many of the members of the Alumni have expressed the determination to make this a permanent organization, whether or not there be a high school in our town. This is a most worthy move on the part of those who are loyal to their Alma Mater. This gathering was characterized by many as one of the most successful and brilliant social functions ever held in Meredosia.

Ed Geiss was a business visitor in Quincy Monday.

Ben Burrus and J. D. McLain were Jacksonville visitors Tuesday. Clifford Castle of Bluffs attended the alumni banquet here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Thomason left Thursday evening for a visit with friends in Chicago.

Charles Bigford, a former resident of this city, but who for some time has been in the Soldiers' Home at Danville and Quincy, returned Tuesday and will reside here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grady of Merritt were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLain Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Hilderbrand returned home Thursday from a visit at St. Louis. She was accompanied home by her daughter, Evelyn, who has been there for several weeks.

Mrs. H. E. Harms and daughter, Deloise, left on the steamer Bald Eagle Friday for St. Louis for a visit with relatives.

Charles Enke and Mrs. Gus Schliker, left Thursday evening for a business visit in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mrs. Alice Lusk Davis of Decatur is visiting friends here. She attended the alumni banquet Tuesday evening with the honor of having been a member of the first graduating class of the Meredosia High school.

F. W. Brockhouse, O. W. Wilcox, Looman Bros., McLain Bros., and C. H. James, who lately purchased the H. L. Lake stock, have united five stocks of merchandise into one firm, to be known as "the United Mercantile Co.," and will be situated in the large store rooms of Mrs. J. H. Carver which have been occupied by O. W. Wilcox and F. W. Brockhouse. The new firm have the conviction that by decreased overhead expense, increased buying facilities, that they will be in better position to meet the competition of the mail order business. The stocks are now being voiced and the big store will be in operation by the middle of June.

The open air concert by the band which was to take place Thursday evening was called off on account of the condition of the weather.

The Meredosia Concert band will run an excursion from here to Beardstown on the steamer Columbia Saturday, June 17th. The boat leaves here at 11 a. m., returning about 10 o'clock in the evening.

Emil Brockhouse has a position as day telegraph operator at the Wabash station at Valley City.

Mrs. Richard Arnold and sister, Miss Pauline Winningham of Springfield, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winningham Tuesday and attended the alumni banquet that evening.

Arthur Dunn, who for many years has had charge of the pumping station for the Wabash at this place, has resigned his position to accept the one of traveling engineer for the water service department of the Wabash. Ethan Allen has been secured to fill Mr. Dunn's place and Sam Miller will take Mr. Allen's place as bridge watchman.

Misses Esther James and Greta Looman went to Versailles Friday afternoon to visit W. T. Hedenberg and wife and attend the commencement exercises there that evening.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Woman's Auxiliary
of Trinity Church.

Mrs. J. P. Langton was hostess to the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal church at a regular meeting held Friday afternoon at the rectory. Mrs. Albert Cox, president of the society, was in the chair. This was one of the best attended meetings held in recent years and members of the society feel justifiably proud of recent growth. Mrs. Langton and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, delegates to the state council in Springfield, made reports which were encouraging and satisfactory. Miss Frances Wakely, the secretary, read an interesting paper. Plans were made for the triennial convention which will be held in St. Louis next October. It was noted with pleasure that the society offering this year was more than double that of the corresponding meeting a year ago. Refreshments were served in the course of a delightful social hour which followed the business meeting.

Gave Bridge Party

Miss Lura and Miss Marie Wiswell entertained at a bridge party at their home on West North street Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Ruth Henry of West Bend, Wis., who is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown. The prize for high score was won by Miss Margaret Clampt and the guest prize was awarded to Miss Ruth Henry. Dainty refreshments were served.

to Ebenezer Society.

Mrs. J. A. Moss entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of Ebenezer church Thursday afternoon at her home northwest of the city. After the business session there was a social hour and program. Vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Mrs. Lloyd Moss, Mrs. Carl Martin, Miss Elsie Cully and Miss Lucy Reed. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. A. A. ## Emerson Disc Cultivator

This is not an ordinary cultivator, but one with improvements that are far in advance of anything before shown on a tool. One very particular feature never before embodied in a disc cultivator is the point of draft as applied to the disc gang. The gangs are pivoted to the beam coupling between the first and second discs in such a way that the pivot is exactly at the center point of draft in all three discs. This makes the discs operate with greater ease and do better work.

The beams work independently. You can finish a row even if it only allows plowing one side, or one side can be run deeper if necessary.

FIRES THIS YEAR HAVE BEEN FEW AND FAR BETWEEN

Department Has Not Had Call for Thirty-Four Days—Good Has Resulted from Fire Prevention Campaign.

"What is doing in the fire line today, Chief?" When this question was put to Fire Chief Hunt Friday afternoon, Mr. Hunt said: "We haven't had a call for 34 days." When he said it, however, he knocked on the wood.

Continuing, Chief Hunt said that the present year had been a remarkable one in the absence of fires. Andrews Lumber Yard fire and the been a disastrous fire. In fact, the chief was of the opinion that Jacksonville had been unusually fortunate for several years aside from the residences of E. S. Greenleaf and there. The remains are expected Capt. Alex Smith.

There is no denying the fact that Jacksonville has been fortunate in the past few years. There may be several reasons. Chief among them in the opinion of Chief Hunt, is the fact that so much has been published relative to fire prevention in the press and it has been impressed on the school children. Then, too, the State Fire Marshall's office is giving local conditions more attention than has been true in the past. This has resulted in cleaning up cellars and areas where it was formerly customary to store combustible material.

MANY ATTRACTIVE FEATURES FOR CELEBRATION JULY 4TH.

Funds Are Being Raised and an Excellent Program is in Course of Preparation—Tennis Finals and Baseball.

The work of the Fourth of July community celebration is progressing and the hope is for a celebration truly worthy of the occasion. The question now is only one of finance and if that be settled satisfactorily there will be no difficulty in the rest. As the general feeling has been to have the exercises at Nichols park, there will be no trouble in fixing a program which will have attractive features if the funds can be provided. The night fireworks are already assured and will be fully on a plane of the display for former years and that being the case, something tangible may already be reported.

Then the tennis finals will make an attractive feature and the committee desires to furnish a program combining band music, athletic contests and day fireworks. This last named feature will be something new in this vicinity and will surely be attractive. It is the expectation to have them at intervals during the day so that all may have an opportunity to enjoy them. The athletic contests, if taking place, will furnish entertainment for a great many.

In addition to the above there will be a game of baseball which will surely attract a great many lovers of that sport. The game should be liberally patronized that the men bringing the team here may be rewarded. The soliciting committee will be at work right along and a full report is hoped for in a short time.

Make plans to picnic all day at the park and let all have a good, old-fashioned time, such as will be a source of pleasure and pride. Jacksonville is a city which cannot afford to let such an event go without a celebration.

Knoles has that summer suit you need and it will suit you.

GOOD SUM CLEARED FOR BUILDING AT CONSERVATORY CONCERT

Orchestra; Assisted by Mrs. Wilson, Readers Program of High Quality—Fund Increased by Hundred Dollars.

A well filled house greeted the Illinois College Conservatory in their concert Friday evening at State Street church, and about $100 was cleared, to be applied to the Woman's building fund. The orchestra was ably assisted by Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson and the program as a whole was a pleasure to the most discriminating.

Women students of Illinois college are working toward a sum of $10,000 for the purchase and furnishing of suitable quarters for all organizations of college women. With recent growth of the literary societies, the Y. W. C. A. and other college bodies, the present limitations have become all too apparent and a building of this kind is badly needed. It is planned to purchase the Sturtevant property at the corner of Park and Grove streets and to furnish this for use of the various societies.

An advance ticket sale of sufficient size to cover expenses was made and the Friday night concert was a success both from the standpoint of finance and the high quality of the program offered.
